

Name: _____

Date: _____

★ Conjunctions: And, But, Or, So, Because ★

A conjunction joins two words or groups of words.

And joins similar ideas. I like apples and bananas. 	But shows a contrast. I wanted to go outside, but it started to rain. 	Or shows a choice. Do you want tea or juice? 	So shows a result. It was cold, so I wore my jacket. 	Because shows a reason. I studied hard because I had a test.
---	--	---	---	---

1 Circle the conjunction in each sentence.

- I finished my homework and then I played outside.
- I wanted to go to the park, but it was too late.
- Would you like pizza or burgers for dinner?
- It was raining, so we stayed inside.
- I brought an umbrella because it might rain.

2 Choose the best conjunction to complete each sentence.

- I was tired, _____ I went to bed early. (and / but / or / so / because)
- Do you want ice cream _____ cake? (and / but / or / so / because)
- He studied hard _____ he got an A on the test. (and / but / or / so / because)
- I couldn't find my pencil, _____ I used a pen. (and / but / or / so / because)
- She stayed home _____ she was not feeling well. (and / but / or / so / because)

3 Look at each picture. Write a sentence using the conjunction in parentheses.

(and)

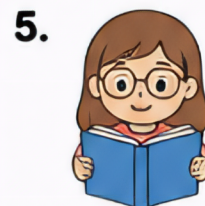

(but)

(or)

(so)

(because)
